

A template for the front of a postcard. It features a vertical line on the left side, a small rectangular box in the top right corner for a postage stamp, and a series of ten horizontal lines on the right side for an address. The entire template is enclosed in a rounded rectangular border.

A template for the back of a postcard. It features a large rectangular box in the bottom right corner for an address. The entire template is enclosed in a rounded rectangular border.