

A large rectangular area containing horizontal lines for writing, enclosed in a thin black border. The lines are evenly spaced and extend across most of the width of the page.

