

ON THE FIRST
DAY OF CHRISTMAS

your true love gave to you
a partridge in a pear tree...
Sorry, but I couldn't find the partridge so I am giving you some pears from the tree the partridge flew away from.

ON THE SECOND
DAY OF CHRISTMAS

your true love gave to you -
two turtle doves...
Unfortunately, I don't have any, will candy turtles on a bar of Dove soap do?

ON THE THIRD
DAY OF CHRISTMAS

your true love gave to you -
three French hens...
The French hens were not available, so I'm giving you some chicken noodle soup, compliments of the three French hens.

ON THE FOURTH
DAY OF CHRISTMAS

your true love gave to you -
four calling birds...
I can't find those calling birds, but here are four messages they left for you before they flew off.

ON THE FIFTH
DAY OF CHRISTMAS

your true love gave to you -
five golden rings...
Sorry, I'm too poor to
buy five real gold rings,
but will some golden
pineapple rings suffice?

ON THE SIXTH
DAY OF CHRISTMAS

your true love gave to you -
six geese a laying...
You don't really want messy geese all over the house do you? How about some of the eggs
they left behind?

ON THE SEVENTH
DAY OF CHRISTMAS

your true love gave to you -
seven swans a swimming...
All of the swans have flown south for the winter, but here are some of the bubbles they used while they were swimming.

ON THE EIGHT
DAY OF CHRISTMAS

your true love gave to you -
eight maids a milking...
Here's some milk I got from the eight maids - we think they must have been milking some brown cows!

ON THE NINTH
DAY OF CHRISTMAS

your true love gave to you
nine ladies dancing...
Here are some canes
used by the ladies to help them walk home after they were out dancing all night.

ON THE TENTH
DAY OF CHRISTMAS

your true love gave to you -
ten Lords-a-leapin'...
After the Lords get done leapin', this is what they use for their sore muscles.

ON THE ELEVENTH
DAY OF CHRISTMAS

your true love gave to you
eleven pipers piping...
Here's a pipe of your own have fun and don't blow the whole day!

ON THE TWELFTH
DAY OF CHRISTMAS

your true love gave to you -
twelve drummers drumming...
No drummers, we thought you could use some quiet time so here is a special treat we drummed up for you so relax and enjoy.
