

If you don't know where you are going, any road will take you there.

The embroidery features a quote in a black, slightly cursive font on a light-colored fabric. The text is enclosed in a wooden oval hoop. Red thread is used for decorative elements: a bunch of grapes with green leaves on the left; a red arrow pointing right above the word "don't"; a red arrow pointing left below the word "any"; a red arrow pointing right above the word "take"; and a red arrow pointing left below the word "you". A red wavy line underlines the entire quote.
