

Aesop's Mad Libs #1

From "The Ant and the Grasshopper"

In a field one summer's day a _____ was _____ about, _____ and _____ to its heart's content. A(n)
_____ by, bearing along with great difficulty a(n)
_____ it was taking to the _____.

"Why not come and _____ with me," said the _____,
"instead of _____ that _____?"

"I am _____ for the _____," said the _____, "and you should do the same."

"Why bother about the _____?" said the _____; we have plenty of _____ at present." But the _____ went on its way and continued its _____. When the _____ came the _____ had no _____ and found itself very _____,
while it saw the _____ every day the _____ it had collected in the _____. Then the _____ said:

It is best to prepare for the days of necessity.