

These are a few of the things that give me goosebumps:

Five horizontal lines for writing.

To do
Two things I do every day:

Two bullet points for writing.

One thing I'd like to do every day, but can never seem to find the time for:

One bullet point for writing.

Strength is a matter of the made-up mind.

— John Beecher

Genius is talent set on fire by courage.

— Henry Van Dyke

Three very brief things about yesterday:

Five horizontal lines for writing.

Lightning round, used or colored note paper? Juggling or making a tight rope? Online or in branch banking? Big or fondache? Mass mail or conventional mail? Newsies or pencils? Ice cream or beefsteak? Walk or smile? Lente or chugpass? Board lunch or cafeteria special? Multiplication or division? Car or truck? Sand, rock or soap? Soap or water? Shortcut or scenic route? Gray or ketchup?

Three people I love to hang out with who have interests that are vastly different from my own:
