

Dear diary -

SUN / 5-15-11 / 6pm

Well... on the flight back from NYC - suspended between two worlds. big apple, big dreams, big risk, big potential. And home - google, condo, quiet. I know what I need to do (quit) - I just hope I can muster the courage & strength to do it.
I'm so terrified, terrified. But it struck me today that if I spent 30 hours per week on trying to earn $5k/mo I could do it.
I know I could. If I invest my time, energy, attention & passion into myself - remove the distraction & stress & safety zone of google - that will be okay. Biggest fears: two months health care, failing.
