

No Running in the Library

This rule is in effect until we get some of the books that no one reads out of the library to make space for the fitness room and indoor track we're planning to build.