

The Way I See It # 168

The human brain is the only object in the known universe that can predict its own future and will in some fashion. The fact that we can make discretion decisions even as we foresee their consequences is the great, unsolved mystery of human behavior. When you hold your fate in your hands, why would you ever make a fool?

— Daniel Gilbert
Psychology professor and author of Thinking, Fast and Slow

This is the author's opinion, not necessarily that of Starbucks. To read more or request, go to www.starbucks.com/waypoint.

Deal
 Yes
 No
 Yes
 No
 Deal
 Yes
 No

Made with 100% post-consumer recycled fiber.

Careful, the beverage you're about to enjoy is extremely hot.

The Way I See It # 168

The human brain is the only object in the known universe that can predict its own future and will in some fashion. The fact that we can make discretion decisions even as we foresee their consequences is the great, unsolved mystery of human behavior. When you hold your fate in your hands, why would you ever make a fool?

— Daniel Gilbert
Psychology professor and author of Thinking, Fast and Slow

This is the author's opinion, not necessarily that of Starbucks. To read more or request, go to www.starbucks.com/waypoint.

Deal
 Yes
 No
 Yes
 No
 Deal
 Yes
 No

Made with 100% post-consumer recycled fiber.

Careful, the beverage you're about to enjoy is extremely hot.

