

I wonder by the moon, I wonder by the night star
I seek our worlds together, near or far.
The lark sings, and time's taken a new turn, together, now we are to greet a thousand splendid sun

