

Past:

Lantern

You had a decision of some sort you needed to make, and you chose the most adventuresome path. Your quest all worked out for the best, but you needed to turn to someone close to you to seek out advice. You weren't thinking ahead and some of your decisions were made without regard for the consequences. You're still paying the price for your impulsiveness.

Present:

Cat

Your thoughts are racing and you are full of curiosity. You want to know everything and will have strong opinions about it. Be prepared to take a logical, honest approach and face the facts head on. When speaking with others be fair and willing to accept the other person's point of view. Don't avoid things that irritate you, there's a lot to be gained in the long run by facing them.

Future:

Pierced Heart

Romance enters the picture for you and you will feel giddy with love. All this positive attention and flattery may go to your head. Be wary and cautious of your own feelings. You may even feel like you are being seduced. Flow with it, but be suspicious of false admirers who are giving you attention for selfish reasons. The real person you should love the most is you.