

FADE IN:

INT. A HOUSE - CANADA, 1845

YOUNG HUGH JACKMAN, who kind of resembles the kid from FREAKS AND GEEKS, is sick in bed. His brother, YOUNG LIEV SCHREIBER, glowers over him while his father, PETER O'BRIEN, looks on.

YOUNG HUGH JACKMAN

Father! I had a terrible nightmare! I was hosting the Oscars, and I was part of this incredibly embarrassing musical number and-

PETER O'BRIEN

Shh, it's alright son. You're safe now, back in Canada in 1845.

YOUNG HUGH JACKMAN

Wait, what? Canada wasn't even a country until 1867. Has Hollywood managed to not discover Wikipedia yet?

Suddenly, there is a RUCKUS downstairs.