

To Mom
on your birthday

I know that during my life you have tried to teach me many things and that I have not always followed your ideals.

But, on your birthday, I do want you to know that many of the things you have taught me have helped me become the person that I am today. And I want to thank you for that.
For example,