

I Know That Song!

How well do you know your love songs? From oldies to country to rock 'n' roll, we've reworked the titles of popular songs related to love. See who can guess the most real titles. Use them as a quiz or individually on name tags for an ice breaker party game!

Instructions: As a quiz, pass out copies of the game and keep one for yourself. Read the questions aloud, and give your guests time to answer. At the end of the quiz, reveal the real titles. Whoever guesses the most correctly wins! Have people work individually or as teams.

Or choose the "name tag option" and pass out the goofy song titles as name tags for your guests (write them onto freezer tags or address label stickers). Give them a copy of the crazy song titles on a sheet, too. They can check out the other guests name tags and write down which songs they think they know. When all your guests have arrived and had a chance to mingle, reveal the answers. Whoever guesses the most correctly, wins!
