*In billions of people,
you are the man I'll give my life to;
In the extent of your heart,
is the place I would fall into.
In the corner of your mind, is the place I would go through;
In the love that we feel, the only thing I can't construe.*

*In the haven of your arms, there's where I want to be;
In the iris of your eye, I'll be the only girl you'll see.
In the deepness of your sight,
please look through beyond my beauty;
In the blindness by the light, may I be your light to see?*
