

A decorative border of rainbows and clouds surrounds a central writing area. The writing area contains several horizontal lines for text. The lines are arranged as follows:

- Three lines on the right side, aligned to the right margin.
- A line on the left side, followed by a comma and a space, then a line extending across the width of the page.
- Eight lines extending across the width of the page.
- Two lines at the bottom center, aligned to the center.