

Museum Scavenger Hunt

What's that?

- A treasure hunt rolled into an art appreciation crash course rolled into a day trip to the museum.

What stuff do I need?

- Postcards of different paintings from your local museum's gift shop.
- Prizes for the kids.

How do I do this?

- Drive the kids to a nearby museum and kick off the trip with a visit to the gift shop.
- Buy 10 or more postcards of the paintings, depending on the number of kids in tow.
- Ask the kids to form two teams and divide the postcards among them.
- The first team that finds all the paintings from their batch of postcards wins the prize.
- Discuss the artists and their paintings when you are back home.

Who knows, there could be a budding Van Gogh among them!
