

START

I am getting my hair cut this evening.

My umbrella blew inside out.

Dad is going on vacation.

There is a spider in the shower.

I am going to see the dentist.

I fell off my bike.

We are going on holiday.

Harry found his brother hiding in a large box.

Simon is bouncing on her ball.

Dan always wins the board game.

There is a spring taxi tomorrow.

I have to give a talk in front of the class.

I left my library book at home.

Mel is making a model elephant.

There is a fire in the kitchen.

Tom cannot find his toy plane.

ACTING OUT

I like the fact to use the language of actions in these stories.
 I like the ideas and need to invent our own stories.
 Drawing the scene is useful in the story books to
 I. From paper, cut out the pictures, stick in the scenes. Illustrate stories in the stories and make your own.

John is swinging backwards and forwards.

My cousins are playing in the swimming pool.

I can see a shark in the sea.

It is parental evening tonight.

There is a magician at my birthday party.

Carla is sending an email to her friend.

George has been whipping the over an hour.

I have not done my homework.

Tom is going down the slide.

Dad is cooking fish fingers for dinner.

Sam's dog is jumping through the hoop.
