

Survey Edition

MAD LIBS

World's Greatest Research Tool

         % of internet         , or about          million         , said they 2 digit #                                  noun                                  2 digit #                                  noun went          to get news or          about the          elections.

adjective    noun    year

We call them          political          consumers.
adjective    noun

         % of          users, or about          million people, said they 2 digit #                                  noun                                  2 digit # used          to discuss         , and one of the most adjective    noun    adjective was jokes about the          and the election.

noun    noun

         % of         , or more than          million people, 2 digit #                                  noun                                  2 digit #                                  verb online to          directly in          activities such as donating verb    adjective

        , volunteering, or          about          events to attend.
noun    gerund    adjective

I think President          is a                   and should be last name    adjective    noun in the         .

verb (past tense)    noun