

Get Organized! How to make a

BACK TO SCHOOL BINDER

[with free printables!]

BACK TO SCHOOL BINDER

BACK TO SCHOOL BINDER

BACK TO SCHOOL BINDER

To stay on top of it all when my kids are in school, I created this Back to School Binder to help me super organize! It's so stressful to search for lost permission slips, disappearing project outlines, schedules and dorama instructions so papers have a home!

Inside my binder, I keep the schools as folder/divider labeled for each child so keep "important" stuff! Only things like calendars, a grading matrix, for an up-to-date, you get the idea. Don't clutter this; there are other places to store those important/schedule/informational items - need to sign, paperwork to online sites, etc things you NEED you'll be looking for later! longer-term papers I might need the entire child's divider.

At our house, immediately after the kids get their papers out from the day and while they're everything and sort it. I usually end up with a list, and things that need to go [PINEAPPLE].

Lastly, don't forget to get and label a folder for your parent organization or are a classroom helper or too! (My final tip is to store your binder in an easy know where it is and can get to it quickly and easy!

INCLUDED: Binder Cover, Binder Spines (both 1/2" and Sharpie or Silver Gel Pen to write on the chalkboard!

Personal Use Only | COPYRIGHT by Todd, shared on Pinterest | www.mycomputerismycanvas.com | www.mycomputerismycanvas.com
© 2013 My Computer is My Canvas. All rights reserved. (Revised by TpT Junkie 8/8/18)

SCHOOL NOTE
FOR:	NOTES
DATE

Math

Science

Mommy's BACK 2 SCHOOL Binder

www.mycomputerismycanvas.com