

THE TURKEY ESCAPE

It all started on a _____ (adjective) Thanksgiving morning.
The kitchen was filled with _____ (plural noun),
and everyone was trying to _____ (verb) before the big feast.

Suddenly, the _____ (animal) we were cooking jumped out of the oven with a loud _____ (silly noise)!
It ran straight into the _____ (place in a house)
and knocked over the _____ (food).
We chased it for _____ (number) minutes,
but it was too fast and kept _____ (verb ending in -ing) away from us.

Finally, my _____ (family member) yelled, "Don't worry,
I've got this!" and grabbed the _____ (noun).
But before they could catch it, the turkey escaped out
the door and ran straight toward _____ (famous person/character), who happened to be visiting!

Everyone froze in shock. The turkey grabbed a cup of _____ (drink), shouted "_____!" (exclamation) and disappeared into the sunset.

We all sat down and said, "Well, I guess we're eating _____ (adjective) sandwiches this year instead."
